Cargo Is Saved

A truck driver was burned seriously in one of three district traffic accidents Wednesday afternoon and evening.

William Weihe, 40, of Oxford ave., Akron, received third degree burns when the cab of his tractor-trailer burst into flames after the huge vehicle careened off the highway on Route 224, one mile east of Berlin Center, shortly after 10 p. m.

Taken To Clinic
Weihe was rushed to the Central Clinic by Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Phipps of Columbus, who were passing by at the time. The victim suffered from severe burns about the face, arms and legs.

Corp. W. E. Arey and Patrolman C. W. Gale of the state highway patrol barracks said they were at a loss to know how the accident occurred. No other machines were involved.

It is their opinion, however, that Weihe lost control of the trailer after passing over B. & O. railroad tracks at that point. The truck tore out eight posts of a guard rail fence.

Cargo Is Saved
The patrolmen used fire extinguishers and saved a cargo of miscellaneous freight on the trailer. The vehicle was enroute west at the time of the accident.

Roland Gavin, 11, of Orrville, who is visiting relatives here during the holidays, escaped unhurt when he skated in front of an automobile driven by E. S. Vincent of 1511 E. Third st., on Third st., near Hawley ave., at 12:10 p. m. Wednesday.

The boy was taken to the clinic for examination by Vincent. He was found to be uninjured.

Collide Near Lisbon

Occupants of automobiles driven by Raymond Votaw, 28, of R. D. 4, Lisbon, and Clarence King of Holliday's Cove, W. Va., escaped unhurt in a collision on Route 45, two miles north of Lisbon, at 6 p. m.

State Patrolman Gale said Votaw attempted to turn left into a side road at that point and was struck by King's north-bound car. Miss Freda Reese, 22, of near Lisbon, was riding with Votaw.

Reports Submitted
At Church Meeting

Annual reports were made and several new officers elected at a meeting of Holy Trinity English Lutheran church congregation last night.

The congregation is again listed on the honor roll of the synods of Ohio for contributions to missions and benevolent work.

J. Elmer Johnston, M. D. Shelton and Herbert Platt were elected as members of the church council. Miss Ruth Hoch was named organist and Mrs. Celia Greenstein, assistant. Miss Hilda Franke is choir director.

Meetings Planned
By Potato Growers

Potato growers will have the opportunity of studying production and marketing methods at a three-session course to be held in Salem at the Methodist church.

E. B. Tussing will meet with the growers on Wednesday afternoons, Jan. 5, 12 and 19. These meetings will also begin at 1:30 p. m.

With the low yield and poor quality of many of the growers are wondering what they can do to improve their potato crop.

Emperor Is Key To Jap Expansion Ambitions

Younger Officers Oppose Conservatives Over Military Program

TOKYO — Those who are puzzled as to the underlying purpose of Japan's invasion of China and how far Tokyo plans to go with their campaign might well consider the key part played by Emperor Hirohito of Japan in the situation.

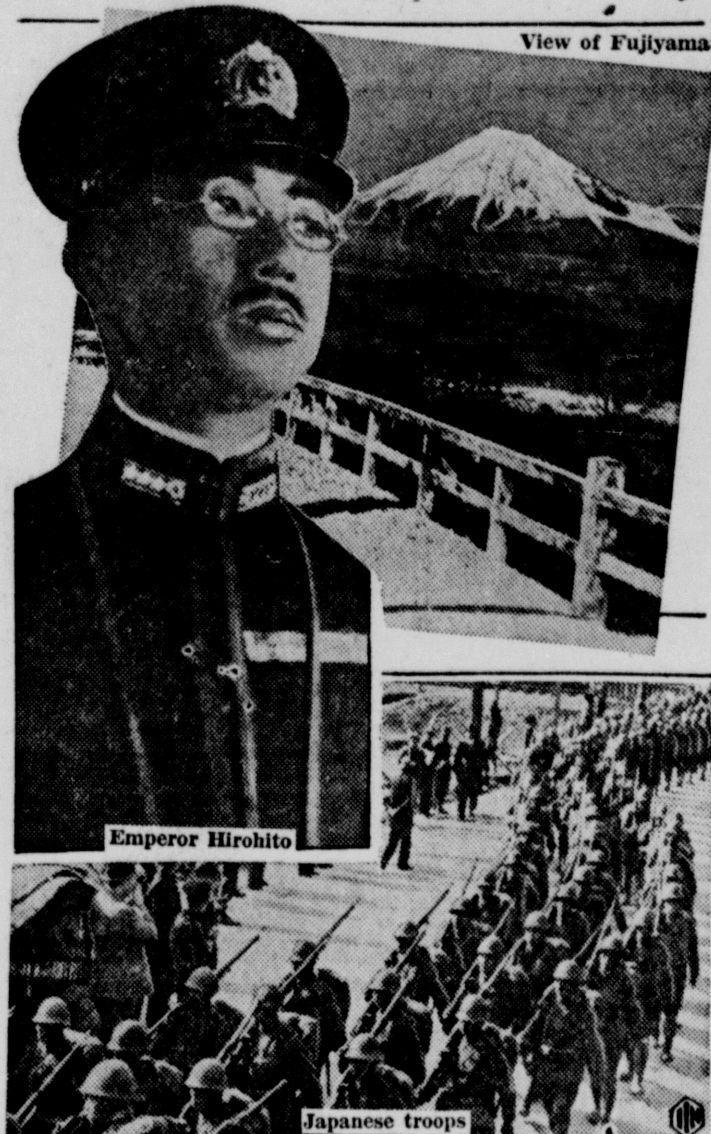

Despite the emperor's policy of keeping aloof and in the background, it is he who is the determining factor in a complicated set-up and at a critical moment which may determine the whole future of the Japanese empire.

To all understand the reasons underlying Japan's military policy, one must appreciate the worship and awe with which the emperor is regarded. Age and an honorable name are held in great reverence in the far east, and no name or reputation is more august than that of the emperor whose dynasty has reigned without interruption and with honor for more than 2,500 years.

Younger Radicals Powerful
As a result there is an adoration for the ruling house tantamount to a religion. Because of this there has come into being an intense spirit of nationalism, a patriotic zeal almost fanatical in nature. The people, and especially the military, are taught and believe that they are led by one who rules by divine right and one whose empire should be the greatest on earth.

Those most extreme in their imperialistic ambitions to make Japan and its chosen people and "divine" emperor supreme are the younger officers of Tokyo's war machine. It is they who are driving on toward conquest of all China, hoping to make Japan mistress of the orient and possibly of the entire world. They represent the most headstrong and fiery elements, and they were the ones who were back

County Poultrymen
Discuss Marketing

Poultrymen of Columbiana county will have the opportunity of discussing the marketing problem in a series of meetings to be held at various points in the county. The theme for the meeting "Ohio Eggs" is "Marketing Northeast Ohio Eggs".

Kennerly Mahan, federal egg grader from the Northeast Ohio Poultry association, will discuss the topic of grading and care of eggs for market. He will also demonstrate the method of candling eggs.

Samples of eggs brought in by producers will be candled if anyone is interested. Charles Moser, manager of the Northeast Ohio Poultry association, will discuss "Marketing Problems of the Northeast Ohio Poultry association".

Meetings will be held as follows: Wednesday, Jan. 5, Columbiana City hall, 8 p. m.; Friday, Jan. 7, Memorial building, Salem, 8 p. m.; Thursday, Jan. 13, Bayard school, 8 p. m.

Al Smith Observes
His 64th Birthday

NEW YORK, Dec. 30. — Former Gov. Alfred E. Smith observed his 64th birthday anniversary today. He planned to spend the day quietly in his office and then go home for a family dinner.

Event

Mr. and Mrs. Michael McTighe, residing south of Leetonia, whose 60th wedding anniversary is Saturday, New Year's day, will celebrate the event Sunday at their home.

A family dinner will be followed by open house for friends and relatives who are invited to call after 2 p. m. and during the evening.

Michael McTighe, 84, and Miss Sabina Kelly, now 80, were married New Year's day, 1877, in County Mayo, Ireland, where they were born and reared. They came to the United States in 1881 after the birth of their daughter, Catherine, now Mrs. Howard Keyser of Leetonia.

M. and Mrs. McTighe made their home in Philadelphia for several years and came to Leetonia in 1884. He was employed for about 20 years at the Cherry Valley blast furnace.

Mr. and Mrs. McTighe have lived for a number of years at their present home, a ten-acre farm, which they care for themselves. They are active in community affairs and in the work of St. Patrick's Catholic church.

The couple have eight children: Mrs. Keyser of Leetonia; John McTighe of Casper, Wyoming; Michael of Duluth, Minn.; Martin of Columbiana; Mrs. Warren Stewart of Salem; Mrs. Mary Clark of Brecksville; Miss Sabina McTighe at home; and Francis of Cleveland; 15 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Panay Pictures
Booked for Grand
Beginning Sunday

The newsreel scoop of the year—the bombing of the Panay by Japanese planes—will be shown at the Grand theatre, Monday and Tuesday, N. 1 Walken, manager, announced today.

Filmed by Norman W. Alley for Universal Co., the newsreel is more than five times as long as the average news pictures. The film was made aboard the Panay at the risk of Commander Alley's life and was rushed to the United States by airplane.

Extension School
Interests Farmers

Many farmers of Columbiana county have indicated an interest in the agricultural extension schools to be held in Salem during the month of January.

A three-session course for dairymen will be held in the Methodist church Jan. 4, 11 and 18. The course, continuing for two hours, C. Blackman, dairy specialist of Ohio State university, will lead the discussion at each meeting.

The discussions will center around higher income from our dairy herds by means of better breeding.

Graft Probe

(By Associated Press)
COLUMBUS, Dec. 30.—Testimony that a state liquor department employee maintained Lorain county campaign headquarters in 1933 for Gov. Martin L. Davey while collecting fraudulent expense accounts was recorded today by the senate's graft-investigating committee.

After Joseph Maiden, Jr., Canton district supervisor for the liquor monopoly, acknowledged he received payment for a series of receipts for hotel room rentals, the committee heard testimony: That one receipt was "raised" from $2 to $32.

That others bore signatures not in the handwriting of hotel employees purportedly signing them; and

That Maiden was not registered in the hostelry on whose receipts he collected reimbursement for the periods stated.

Deny Authenticity
Three Canton hotel operators from whom the receipts were supposed to have emanated—William L. Brett, his son Lyman, and Thomas J. Jackson—denied in turn the authenticity of the vouchers.

Totalling more than $200, the allegedly fraudulent receipts covered rentals for August to November, 1936.

War Vet Released
To Soldiers Home

LISBON, Dec. 30.—Emmett Osgood, of East Liverpool was released from the county jail today on a suspension of sentence, ordered by Common Pleas Judge W. F. Lones.

Osgood, serving a six months' sentence, was taken to the Soldiers' home at Sandusky following his release by Wallace King, veteran's service representative.

The prisoner, a World war veteran, was indicted by the September grand jury on a charge of cutting with intent to maim. At his arraignment he was allowed to plead guilty to a charge of assault and battery.

PREMIER ACTS
FIRMLY TO HALT
FRENCH STRIKEThreat to Call Strikers
To Colors Breaks Up
Walkout120,000 EMPLOYES
TO RETURN TODAYMine Dispute Near Valenciennes Looms As New Trouble

(By Associated Press)
PARIS, Dec. 30.—A new outbreak of strikes in the rich mining region of northern France intensified the turbulent labor situation today after firm government action brought quick settlement of the critical public service tieup in Paris.

A thousand coal miners at Anzin, near Valenciennes, quit work this morning in protest against discharge of three miners.

This stoppage aroused official concern lest the strike spread among all of the 16,000 miners employed by the Anzin company. Local government officials sought to negotiate a settlement.

Threat Brings Submission
Premier Camille Chautemps' threat to call striking public service workers, most of whom are army reservists, to the colors, caused prompt submission to his demands for settlement of the Paris strike, which threatened to undermine the People's Front government.

Minister of Labor Andre Fevrier was trying to negotiate the other Paris strikes, affecting food trucks, warehouses and the Goodrich Rubber company plant.

Six hundred sailors at Rouen, whose recent walkout tied up 35 ships, continued on strike.

The agreement to call off the Paris public service strike came in the early hours of the morning after labor delegates had shuttled back and forth between their own meetings and government offices through the night.

The strikers, 120,000 strong, were notified to return to their jobs soon after daybreak. The city's 12 subway and bus lines started carrying passengers again at 6 a. m.

Hailed As Triumph

Settlement of the strike when it had been in effect less than 24 hours was hailed as a political triumph for the Radical-Socialist premier of the People's Front regime, whose threat to mobilize the workers as members of the French army was credited with breaking the workers' resistance.

Under the government's threat the strikers themselves would have become strike breakers—called out as army reserves, sent back to the same municipal jobs from which they had walked out and ordered to maintain transportation, water, gas and light supplies as well as other services they had crippled or halted.

Most of the strikers are reservists. The compromise gave the protesting municipal workers a 70-franc-a-month ($231) living allowance.

While this was a boost over the 50-franc allowance already approved by the Paris municipal council—the decision that precipitated the strike—it was still 30 francs under the average received by employees of the national government.

The municipal workers had sought an allowance equal to the 100 francs of the national employees. This the municipal council had opposed in an effort to reduce Paris' 1938 budget.

Account Keepers
Arrange Sessions

The farm account keepers of Columbiana county will hold their summarization meetings on Thursday and Friday, Jan. 6 and 7. Guy Miller, rural economics specialist from Ohio State university, will be present to discuss the records and help summarize. He will also discuss the outlook for various types of farming the coming year.

The schedule of the meetings is as follows: Thursday, Jan. 6, 9:30 a. m.—Home of L. E. Sanor, two miles south of North Georgetown.

Thursday, Jan. 6, 1:30 p. m.—Lunchroom Columbiana High school. Enter single door on east side of building.

Thursday, Jan. 6, 7:30 p. m.—Court room No. 2, Lisbon.

Friday, Jan. 7, 9:30 a. m.—Goshen Township High school office.

Friday, Jan. 7, 1 p. m.—Home of W. G. Edgerton, one mile south of Winona.

Grange to Install

Perry grange officers will be installed New Year's day by Salem granger members. A coverdish dinner will be served at noon.

Administration Attack
On Business Prelude to President's MessageMcNARY MAKES
ALIBI CHARGEDeclares Efforts of Administration Are Obvious

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—Senate Republican Leader McNary of Oregon charged today that attacks on "big business" by administration spokesmen constituted "an obvious effort to create an alibi" to explain the current recession.

He challenged as "political" two recent speeches of Robert Jackson, assistant attorney general. They "apparently were made" he asserted, "to prepare the way" for President Roosevelt's message to congress next Monday.

"This is not the way of handling a grave domestic problem," declared McNary. "The approach to solution of this problem ought to be made in an open and frank way, with encouragement to all citizens. Business probably is entitled to some censure, but not all of it."

He said a psychology of fear had seized the public and that citizens "don't know what to expect in legislation—they are disappointed in the effect of some that has passed."

This fear, he added, was creating a general "want of confidence" and adding to the recession.

Discussing Jackson's attack on monopolistic practices, Senator McNary declared "statute books are covered with anti-monopoly legislation. What we need is enforcement of the legislation we already have."

AUTO TITLE LAW
INCREASES WORKClerk of Courts Carl Stacey, As Result, Increases His Office Help

LISBON, Dec. 30.—The state's new automobile title law, effective Jan. 1, will increase business carried on by Clerk of Courts Carl Stacey's office almost 35 per cent, Stacey estimated Wednesday.

To accommodate the influx of auto owners required to register their vehicles with the clerk under the provisions of the new statute, Stacey has employed three additional clerical workers in the past two weeks. These are Virginia Ramey, East Liverpool; Ruth Cushing, Leetonia; and Paul Lange, Salineville.

The law was recently enacted by the state legislature to correct faults in the old bill of sale regulations. Its sponsors expect it to check forgeries, evasion of sales tax and enable authorities to trace stolen cars more efficiently.

Under the existing measure bills of sale must be recorded in the county in which the sale occurs. The new law makes it mandatory to file the title in the county in which the purchaser resides. It stipulates further that all car liens must be carried as part of the certificate of title, removing the need of registering automobile chattel mortgages with the county recorder.

Dealers are required to file bills of sale on all used cars before Jan. 1. Stacey's office will maintain a ten year record of these documents together with the certificates of title. The clerk states it is not necessary to secure a certificate of title unless the car is sold after Jan. 1.

Notaries, car dealers or owners wanting further information may apply for assistance at the clerk's office in the court house.

County Rural Forum
To Convene Monday

The third session of the Columbiana County Rural Forum will be held in the American Legion home in Lisbon at 8 p. m. Monday, Jan. 3. R. W. Rertz will be present to conduct the discussion on "What is the Long Range Outlook for Agriculture?"

Wertz, from the rural economic department of the Ohio State university, is an outstanding economist and presents his material in a very interesting and clear manner. Between 60 and 70 have been attending the Forum this winter. All persons interested in any of the Rural Forum topics are welcome.

STATES AGAIN
EXPORT GRAINGrain Crops and Prices
Better During Year,
Official SaysBy FRANKLIN MULLIN
Associated Press Market Writer

CHICAGO, Dec. 31.—The United States' return in 1937 to its traditional role as exporter of wheat and corn, the most significant development of the year in the grain market, is an important factor in maintaining farm income, Kenneth S. Templeton, president of the board of trade, said today.

Financial returns from their grain crops to farmer-producers have rebounded substantially above recent years, he said, and the outlook is that an increased farm income will continue into at least the early part of 1938.

The price relationship for both domestic wheat and corn, compared to world prices, is the most favorable in many years, Templeton said, justifying the hope that during 1938 our export trade in these two important farm crops will assume their former proportions.

Increase Business
The greatest grain production in the United States since 1928 and a return of the public to participation in the market increased business in grain futures during 1937 to the largest volume in four years. Turnover in wheat alone was the largest since 1930. Total volume in all grains exceeded 14,700,000,000 bushels compared with 10,442,719,000 in 1936.

Scarcity of supplies earlier in the year before the big crops were harvested lifted prices of most grains to highs unequaled in recent years. May wheat in April touched an eight-year peak of $1.45 1/4 per bushel. The May corn contract expired at the close of that month at $1.40, highest any corn future had been since 1920. May oats touched a peak of 56 1/2c and May rye $1.23 1/2, the highest since 1928.

After these peaks were reached, however, when big supplies began pouring into the markets all prices tumbled sharply. Wheat fell below $1 a bushel, corn to below 60 cents, oats to around 30 cents and rye to 70 cents.

Recent government estimates are that 90,000,000 bushels of this year's crop would move into foreign markets. Exports in 1936 totaled only 10,049,000 bushels.

Elyria Sex Trial

To Testify Today

ELYRIA, Dec. 30.—The trial of Alexander Maneff, 23, roaming Homestead, Pa., youth charged with murdering 19-year-old Louise Hornbeck at nearby Grafton, resumed today with Homestead police officers prepared to take the witness stand.

The attractive dentist's assistant was found ravished and slain in a lot near her home last October.

A three-judge common pleas court heard the swarthy Maneff described as "insane" and "mentally irresponsible" yesterday by Dr. Arthur G. Hyde, Massillon state hospital superintendent, who examined the defendant at the court's request.

HOW ABOUT IT?

Do you believe apprehension over foreign wars should be used as an excuse to put the United States more aggressively than ever into the armaments race?

Do you believe the huge cost of an armaments race should be excused on the grounds it will stimulate economic activity in the United States—the war boom method?

There will be no opportunity to vote yes or no on these questions. They will be decided in Washington, but decided according to pressure and the dictates of expediency.

Thus, the decision will be reached as an expression of public policy. The people must make up their minds. If they want a war boom, if they want their government to participate in the armaments race even more strongly than it is participating now, that's what they will get.

Or, if they want to avoid the dangers of such a policy—and say so—there will be no war boom in the United States, at least not of this country's own making.

There is evidence that in Washington certain public officials are preparing to promote a war boom, in the name of national defense and economic stimulation. They will find support in some quarters outside of Washington. They must find opposition, too.

The United States is not ready yet to follow the warmakers on the downhill path to chaos. The very least its people can do is demand that no further armaments commitments be made till time for full public discussion has been granted. The decision is too momentous, too fateful, to be taken suddenly.

YES, BUT—

In discussions so far of the constitutional amendment proposed by Rep. Ludlow to withdraw from congress authority to declare war without a referendum, one "yes, but—" has been overlooked.

It's this one: Yes, but declarations of war have gone out of style anyway. The fact of the matter is, they never were considered absolutely essential. The United States never declared war against Turkey or Bulgaria in the World War. The majority of Germany's opponents made no declaration of war against her allies, but merely terminated diplomatic relations.
Japan, with a million Chinese casualties as proof that it is waging real war, never has declared war against China. Italy never declared war against Ethiopia. Declarations of war always have been a formality, never secure in international law.

It's entirely possible that while a great many persons are worrying about what Rep. Ludlow's resolution would do to this government's prestige in a world diplomacy is nine tenths realism and one part legalism, the real worrying should be done elsewhere.

Well meaning folk who think the resolution embodies a desirable principle, aren't giving enough consideration to the fact that a constitutional amendment calling for a declaration of war could be evaded with the greatest of ease.

A FIRST CLASS MIND

Reading what his countrymen said about Newton
D. Baker on the occasion of his death, all converts to the theory that democracy will survive if sustained by intelligence must have found reassurance.

For the words of praise all ran to the same effect:
Mr. Baker performed exceptionally well in the democratic plan due entirely to possession of exceptionally high intelligence. As an intimate once said, he possessed one of the country's few really first class minds.

He was not aggressive, nor forceful, in the sense that most public figures are aggressive and forceful.
He did not have to be curbed to make him safely useful to his fellowmen. He saw himself as a servant to the ideals of a free people and never saw the ideals of a free people as aids to his own advancement. He grasped situations without grasping the power which his intellectual advantage placed within reach of his hands.

Some persons, reviewing his career, have said Mr.
Baker just missed being a great man, meaning that he did not capitalize on his opportunities to become a more powerful public figure than he was. The truth is—if it be recognized—that he was a great man because he steadfastly resisted pressure to act like one.

NEW YORK, Dec. 30—Many enthusiasts for O.
Henry stories when in the neighborhood of Irving Place drop into the saloon where he often hung out.
His "Gifts of the Magi" from the New York World still adorns the wall. But there is little of the atmosphere one might expect.

No ancient card table, ringed with many glasses, nor free bowls of pretzels and pop corn and little glass hoodlums filled with those valiant breath destroyers—cloves, coffee and bits of orange peel. The bartender is soporific and without a lion tamer's roar and Montana diamond tie pin.

Also the proprietor seemed unlike the fabled O.
Henry host, but rather glum and unsmiling. Journalists know the bar largely because of its famous, toss-pot, a fellow on one of the high-brow magazines. He stands nightly drinking Scotch and soda, one after another, until the place closes.

The bartender declared the number of his drinks varied little. Usually 25. You could light a cigaret on his face and he stood practically in one spot with one pose. He re-lived days that were gone and wanted no intrusion upon his world of yesterday.

Mark Hellinger, in relaxing moments, is reputedly able to buck more brandies and walk out cold sober than any visitor to the local bodegas. But he is a hard worker and seldom gives cognac a play. Another record brandy drinker in the days of Tex Guinan was Bill Boyd, the stage actor. In the mood he would set at a table alone and polish off a quart between after theatre and sunup. In such a dolor he wanted no companions.

gilt. Puck was once The New Yorker of its day, attracting the crack wits and artists of the period.
Many now famous started in its pages.

There is no longer an open house for artists and writers, arrived or on the way up, such as the Sunday night rendezvous at the Fred Dayton's in the parlors of Washington Square about 20 years ago. Dayton was an advertising executive and still is with the Conde Nast outfit. Every Sunday evening writers and artists went to the Dayton's for a buffet froid supper with free drinks for those desiring them. Afterward guests sat around and talked. Perhaps Charlie Towne or Berton Braley would recite an original poem, maybe a whimsical tale by shy Oliver Herford or a new anagram game by Carolyn Wells. Everything was impromptu. The Dayton's had no axe to grind. They merely liked artists and writers and enjoyed having them around.

Types: In most exclusive hotel dining rooms is usually the fellow you see walking deck on liners so avidly. Tall, mustached and the white shirt of his dinner jacket suggesting a concertina played by the mad King of Bavaria. He eats alone near the entrance, watching with frank gaze all who enter. His dishes are only ordered after careful thought and discussion with a captain. His drink is a single Scotch and soda with his dinner and afterward he sits smoking a cigar until waiters begin piling up tables. A Lonely Heart prospect!

The golden wedding celebration of the James Lord Pratts at Essex, Ct., recently proved the village smith still stands. Pratt at the age of 77 and still active is the ninth generation of village blacksmiths and the oldest business in one family ownership in America. The town turned out, providing the biggest day in the history of the place since the British burned it down in the year of 1812.

Thingumbobs: Marie Dressler was reputedly advised to go to Hollywood to look for a job by Myra Kingsley, the astrologist. Earl Carroll is to reverse the usual process by opening shows on the coast and bringing them to Broadway by easy stages.

They were discussing ingenuity in modern advertising and I could not help but recall the farmer in our town who drove in with apples in the Fall—a sample apple stuck up on a pole in the whip socket.

"But those horrible hats—they're incredible—they are ugly—and do nothing for the face."—Mme. Elsa Schiaparelli, Paris fashion designer, returning to France after 10 days spent observing what New York women are wearing.

THE STARS SAY

For Friday, December 31

While this may be an extremely lively and stirring day, judging by the planetary operations, yet there are signs of peril, dangers, defeat and possibly bereavement. In any case there may be radical upsets, with much commotion and excitement.

If This Is Your Birthday

Those whose birthday it is will find themselves in a year of important adventures, with change in business, aims, environs and associates. There may be turmoil and commotion in making adjustments to this new order that should result in surprising benefits.
A child born on this day may have unusual talents, with yearnings for adventure and romance. It may be subtle, peculiar and difficult to understand. It may lean to the mystical or occult, or other novel avocations.

LEFT-HANDEDNESS

Dr. Copeland

rection of any tendency to use the left hand.

Please get over the belief that a left-handed child will be seriously handicapped in his adult life.
Writing, bricklaying, painting, manicuring, carpentering and plumbing can be performed equally well by a left-handed individual.
If a child insists on using his left hand, do not worry over it. Above all, never force him to use his right hand when he seems to be more at ease with the left.

A left-handed child who is made to use his right hand becomes irritable, nervous, and sooner or later shows some sign of strain to the nervous system. Many cases of stammering, stuttering and other speech defects can be traced to forcing the use of the right hand when the other should be used. This is now the accepted fact. As soon as this effort at compulsion is stopped, the nervous symptoms disappear and the child begins to make great strides in his work.

30 Per Cent Left-Handed

It has been estimated that more than 30 per cent of the world's population are born left-handed.
Of this number about one-quarter ultimately develop the use of the right hand but are always more comfortable when using the left.
The individual who is equally skilled in the use of both hands has an advantage over the rest of us. It is a real asset. The one who possesses this ability makes excellent use of it in his daily work. It is of tremendous value to a surgeon.

Raising Funds for Tom Mooney

Representative Maury Maverick, of Texas, is shown chatting with Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia, of New York, on the speakers' platform in Madison Square Garden, where thousands attended a rally given by labor organizations to raise funds for Tom Mooney, serving a life sentence at San Quentin for the Preparedness Day parade bombing in San Francisco in 1916.

because their children are left-handed, let me assure them that it is by no means an oddity or a disgrace. Such a child is just as skilled as his brother and sister who are right-handed. Some of the most brilliant men in history were left-handed, and in no way did it interfere with their careers.

Answers to Health Queries

Mrs. C. R. K. Q.—Will you please tell me how I can get rid of neu-ritis?

A.—First of all it is most important to determine the underlying cause of the trouble and then treatment may be successfully carried out. For full particulars restate your question and send a self-addressed, stamped envelope.

Constant Reader Q.—I am a young girl 18 years of age, employed as a stenographer. I get good food and plenty of rest. I sometimes have a strange feeling which I cannot explain but which is most uncomfortable. I have to walk around and try to fight it off.

A.—See your doctor for examination. Make sure that you are getting enough outdoor life as well as proper sleep. Improve your general health. For further particulars send a self-addressed, stamped envelope and repeat your question.

Dr. Copeland is glad to answer inquiries from readers who send an addressed, stamped envelope with their questions.

JUDGE GESSNER GIVES ADDRESS

Leetonia Kiwanis Hears Talk By Youngstown Jurist

LEETONIA, Dec. 30.—The Kiwanis club held its weekly meeting at St. Paul's Lutheran church Tuesday evening. The Priscilla club served the dinner for 87.

"Young People's Night" was observed. During the past year, various young people have contributed to the program and they were entertained by the club this week.

J. P. Mellinger introduced the speaker, Judge Gessner of Youngstown.

Judge Gessner urged the young people to make the most of their opportunities. He stated that every one is referred to by their accomplishments and asked the young people to improve their talents.

Special music was given by Miss LaRue Miller of Columbiana and a quartet composed of Misses Gladys Bailey and Vera Davis and Wilbur Couchie and William Sterling.

Fred W. Floding, president of the club the past year, spoke on their achievements and asked the co-operation of every member for the new president, James A. Cozza.

Gov. Carl William of Salem was a guest. The officers for 1938 will be installed at Columbiana the last of the week.

The Leetonia Tool company entertained their employees, their wives and friends at their new office building on Main st., Tuesday evening.

This building, recently completed, will be occupied this week. Bernard Straub, Sr., gave a sleight-of-hand performance. Pictures were shown by Jack Holt of the recent trip of his father, C. E. Holt, Sr., secretary and general manager of the tool company, and son to England. Mr. Holt explained the pictures. Following the informal program, the guests were taken through the new building. Lunch was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl DeLand are the parents of a son born Monday at their home, Somerset st.

Mrs. Harry Gintner submitted to an operation for appendicitis at the Salem hospital Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dishong and children Emory and Emily and Mr. and Mrs. William Hummel returned Tuesday from a visit with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emory Carney at Athens.

CARMEL, Cal. — Mrs. Elsie Lincoln Benedict received a telephone call from Sydney, Australia, routed the long way around the globe via India, England, New York and across the continent a distance of 18,000 miles. The call had originally been made for the direct connection from Sydney here, but it was routed the other way. The charge was $53 for the first three minutes.

Christmas Day in Times Square—and New Year's Eve

At left is a picture taken on the afternoon of Christmas Day, showing Times Square, New York City's "Crossroads of the World," deserted and forlorn, with only one or two of the eight million in the streets. At right is how Times Square looks on New Year's Eve. The crowd photographed then jammed Times Square to welcome 1937. Police authorities are preparing to handle an even larger crowd this year—if it is possible to jam more people in between the buildings. But it will be a good natured crowd as usual.

Salem Girl Is Bride Of Cleveland

Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Gottschling of 740 Newgarden ave., announce the marriage on Dec. 25 of their daughter, Elizabeth, to John Kovasek of Cleveland.

The ceremony was solemnized by Rev. John Folsel, pastor, in the Lutheran church, Eddy rd., Cleveland. The bride wore a gown of rose velvet and carried flowers in a harmonizing shade. Her sister, Miss Johanna Gottschling, was maid of honor. Mr. Edward Kovasek of Cleveland was best man.

The bride attended Salem High school. Mr. Kovasek is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Kovasek of Cleveland. He is a teacher at the John Adams school, East Side, Cleveland.

Following a short wedding trip the couple will be at home to friends at 9815 Robinson blvd., Garfield Heights.

Miss George Bride of Robert Crane

The wedding of Miss Ann Stewart George of East Palestine and Robert Fearn Crane of Kittanning, Pa., at 6:30 p. m. Tuesday in the East Palestine United Presbyterian church, was attended by several Salem friends of the couple.

Miss George is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John S. George. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Crane of Kittanning.

Rev. J. T. Vorhis officiated at the ceremony. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of ivory satin, fashioned with high neckline, long close fitting sleeves, and a train. Her veil was worn with tulle Juliet cap. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Mark Fox of Wheeling, W. Va., was matron of honor. Miss Florence Smith of East Liverpool acted as bridesmaid and Miss Patricia George of East Palestine, junior bridesmaid. Nancy Campbell George, a little niece of the bride, was flower girl.

Lindsay Riddle of Lewistown, Pa., served as best man. Ushers were R. R. and D. J. Crane, G. L. Hampton and J. D. Sedwick, all of Kittanning.

Mr. Crane is associated in business with his father in Kittanning.

Farewell Party For Miss Holloway

A delightful farewell party for Miss Lois Holloway, who will leave in a few days for New York, was given at the home of Paul Meier, Georgetown rd., Clerk of the East State st. A. & P. store and their friends were guests.

Miss Holloway goes to New York state to be assistant teacher in a girl's school on an Indian reservation. A treasure hunt was followed by bingo and "500". Prizes were awarded to Miss Ethel Green, Miss Betty Beck, James Steffel and Wallace Davis. A lovely gift was presented Miss Holloway. Lunch was served by Mrs. Joseph Meier, assisted by Miss Betty Rogers.

Miss Pauline Chamberlain of Lisbon was a guest.

Exchange Club Has Party

Friendly Exchange club held a Christmas party yesterday at the home of Mrs. Charlotte Slagle, Greenford. A dinner at noon was followed by a gift exchange.

During a business session election of officers was held. Mrs. L. H. Daugherty is president. Others are: Vice president, Mrs. Slagle; secretary, Mrs. C. P. Bower. Plans were made for a luncheon meeting to be held Friday, Jan. 14 at the home of Mrs. Byron Smith, Albany.

100 Couples Attend Dance At School

More than 100 couples attended the fifth annual band dance at Salem High school gym last night. Dancing was from 8:30 to 11:30 to music played by Don Harvey's orchestra. Guests were alumni, students and friends.

Funds from the affair will be used to purchase new uniforms for the band members.

Marriage License

Marriage licenses have been granted at Lisbon to J. Saxton Jones of Gallipolis and Miss Ann E. Zelle of Salem; Elbert W. Brown of New Springfield and Dorothy Hoffmaster of New Waterford; Herbert E. Crawford and Genevieve Davis of East Liverpool.

Miss Marian Burke of East State st., sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Jack of Bellevue, Pa., were visitors Sunday at the home of Miss Burke's sister, Mrs. John Gallagher and uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Holtz, Leetonia. William McKeown, Jr., was also a guest at the Holtz home.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Scott and son Donald Ray left this morning for Lee, Mass., after spending the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Caryl Moore, West Seventh st.

The condition of William F. Vaughn, seriously injured when he was struck by a car last Friday, was reported as unchanged at Salem Central Clinic today.

Mr. and Mrs. Galen Groves and daughter Gloria and C. L. Opp, father of Mrs. Groves, of Toledo, spent Christmas and weekend here.

Paul R. Roelen, student at the University of Pittsburgh, is spending the holiday vacation at his home, 566 West Pershing st.

L. G. Bishop of East State st., has entered St. Elizabeth's hospital, Youngstown, for medical treatment.

Today's Pattern

A delight to the eye and a joy to wear—this definitely flattering Anne Adams "surplice" frock is a style that will brighten up the dull, work-a-day morning! You'll appear slender, young, in this dress, and best of all—it's brief sleeves, simple V-neckline, and skirt with action-pleat allow for a maximum of comfort and smartness. If you wish, trim sleeves and collar with a dash of ruffling—or use cotton lace or tie-ric, and finish off the whole dainty effect with perky buttons! Easy to make, too—is this wash-frock, and ideal in flower-scattered percale or chambray.

Pattern 4674 is available in women's sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48. (Size 36 takes 3 1/2 yards 36 inch fabric, 5/8 yard contrast and 2 1/2 yards ruffling. Illustrated sewing instructions included.)

Send fifteen cents (15c) in coins or stamps (coins preferred) for this Anne Adams pattern. Write plainly: size, name, address and style number.

Fill in those gaps in your wardrobe! Write today for the winter Anne Adams Pattern Book. In it you'll find countless styles that will carry you with flying colors through the rest of the Winter and well into Spring. Smart dresses for women and misses, whether they are slim or stout... and gay little clothes for children from two years up. Don't miss this splendid collection! Price of book fifteen cents. Price of pattern fifteen cents. Book and pattern together twenty-five cents.

Brothers Object To Gun Courtship; Wooing Is Wasted

LISBON, Dec. 30.—W. H. Burbick, Beloit R. D. 2, wooed the lady of his choice with a gun and today he sits in his cell at the county jail pondering a New Year's resolution which should involve a change in courtship technique.

Burbick, 28, went to a Knox township home with a pistol in his pocket Wednesday afternoon, according to members of the family. When he threatened to shoot unless the daughter accompanied him home, he was immediately surrounded by male members of the family who disarmed and held him.

The matter of a warrant came up when they called the sheriff's office and members of the family agreed to bring the prisoner in themselves. Arraigned in the afternoon before Justice of the Peace M. K. Zimmerman at Lisbon Burbick was bound over to the grand jury on a charge of carrying concealed weapons.

LEETONIA

The Priscilla club of St. Paul's Lutheran church was entertained at the home of Mrs. John B. Sittler Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Victor Hedl entertained club associates at her home Wednesday evening. Two tables of bridge were in play. Mrs. Thomas Frazier was a guest of the club.

Lisbon Contractor Summoned by Death

LISBON, Dec. 30.—Morgan Guy, 66, who had resided here for the last 54 years, died at 12:22 a. m. today at his home, 233 W. High st., as a result of complications.

He had been in failing health since undergoing an operation 13 months ago. Until a year ago he worked as a trucking contractor. Born at New Brighton, Pa., June 24, 1871, he was the son of Joseph and Elizabeth Guy. He was married to Miss Sophia Heider Oct. 5, 1893.

Besides his wife, he leaves three daughters, Mrs. Paul Burnip, Lisbon; Mrs. J. Floyd Wingrove and Mrs. Charles Wilson, Youngstown; two sons, Clarence of Lisbon and James of Youngstown; four grandchildren and one brother, Walter, of Lisbon.

The funeral service will be held at 2:30 p. m. Sunday at the Ellis funeral home in charge of Rev. F. C. Lake. Burial will be in Lisbon cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home anytime.

How About the Girl?

SEATTLE—Women may be changeable, but County Auditor Earl Millikin gives the mind-changing championship to a prospective bridegroom.

The youth asked for his money back on a marriage license. Told that was impossible, he asked whether he could use it for another girl. The answer again was no. "Aw nuts!" he exclaimed. "Guess I'll go back to the first girl."

Some Gotham Society Babies

The chairman of the committee for the Babies Relief Fund in New York City are shown in character. The picture was taken at the party given to swell the fund. They got the candy for being good little girls. Left to right, they are Mary Ann Travers, Martha Stephenson, Jean Harrington.

Egypt Plunged Into Political Feud By Premier Dismissal

CAIRO, Dec. 30.—Egypt was plunged today into the greatest political crisis of young King Farouk's 20-month reign when he dismissed Premier Mustapha Nahas Pasha and appointed Mohamed Mahmoud to form a new government.

Mahmoud, 55, Oxford educated and premier in 1928-29, started drafting a new cabinet, then decided to dissolve parliament and hold elections within two months.

The long feud between the palace and the government of the Wafd (Nationalist) premier already had resulted in a strike of 10,000 government railway workers in Cairo. Police were on the alert to forestall threatened disorders.

It was understood that preparations had been made to move British troops to Egypt from Palestine in event of an emergency—ostensibly to protect British interests.

Farouk, who became ruler under a regency on the death of his father in the spring of 1936, dispatched a letter to Nahas, dismissing his government for "governing illegally."

WINONA

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Sidwell were honored with a post-nuptial shower Tuesday evening at their home on the Salem-Hanover rd. Approximately 75 friends and relatives from Salem, Damascus and Winona attended. The young people received many nice gifts. Mrs. Sidwell was formerly Miss Florence Kirk.

Entertain at Dinner

Japanese Armies Meet Hardy Foes Around Shantung

SHANGHAI, Dec. 30.—Japanese armies met stiff Chinese resistance today on Shantung province fronts outside Tsingtao, the dynamite-rocked North China seaport from which a number of Americans were in flight.

Japanese sources sent word of fierce fighting some 100 miles west of Tsingtao. South of Tsinan, the conquered provincial capital, warfare on the outskirts of Teian gave China's sacred mountain, Tai Shan, a baptism of fire.

The U. S. gunboat Sacramento docked in Shanghai and disembarked first American civilian refugees from the threatened port. Twenty-five Americans, with a number of nurses and dependents, made the trip.

Actress Declares Ex-Husband Swore In Front of Son

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 30.—Barbara Stanwyck, movie actress and divorced wife of Frank Fay, opposes his petition for temporary custody of their 5-year-old adopted son, Dion, because, she says, Fay used profane language in the child's presence.

Miss Stanwyck testified in superior court yesterday that Fay once struck her on the chin, knocking her over a chair, because he objected to her attendance at a burlesque show.

Fay asked the court to fix specific times for him to visit the boy. He contends his former wife has refused him that right frequently.

Fay denied Miss Stanwyck's charges that he opposed adoption of the boy.

Deserted—on a Doll Counter!

Thousands were milling through a Buffalo, N. Y., department store. On a counter which features dolls—of all colors, sizes, and manner of costume—was this little girl, left apparently by a distracted and heartbroken mother. She has been placed in a Buffalo home.

Former Prisoners Quizzed In Probe Of Parole Method

CLEVELAND, Dec. 30.—City detectives questioned today scores of former prisoners released by the state parole board and obtained
Assistant County Prosecutor John
P. Butler said, "some pretty good stuff" concerning parole methods.
The men were questioned in connection with a special Columbus grand jury investigation of alleged parole system irregularities.
Atty. Gen. Herbert S. Duffy, here on "personal business," said he hoped the ex-convicts would talk freely "in order to save the expense of bringing them before a grand jury."

Butler announced the Cuyahoga county branch of the investigation would continue "day and night" until statements had been received from more than 300 former prisoners.
Efforts to locate Kenyon V.
Painter, 70, former Cleveland bank director released by gubernatorial pardon from Ohio penitentiary Oct.
28, apparently were fruitless. Duffy said a subpoena for Painter had been issued by the Franklin county (Columbus) sheriff to bring him before the parole jury.

Standing Sentence
MADISONVILLE, Ky. — Courthouse visitors were puzzled today to find Charles Taylor, 16, Negro, standing on one foot with both hands in the air.
The unusual punishment was meted out by County Judge Charles Barnett. The youth was charged with attempted burglary.
The judge told Taylor to assume the statue pose each day until further notice. He decides each day when the youth has had enough.

Mann Act Violator
Held In Pittsburgh
PITTSBURGH, Dec. 30.—Emil J.
Reiss, 28, of Pittsburgh, was ordered held for a federal grand jury today on a charge of transporting a woman to Steubenville in violation of the Mann act.
R. J. Untreiner, chief of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, said Reiss was arrested in the investigation of a white slave ring operating between Pittsburgh and Alliance. Nine others were arrested in the case.
Reiss was held previously on another charge of transporting a woman from Pittsburgh to Alliance.

DEATHS

CURTIS E. HISEY
COLUMBIANA, Dec. 30.—Curtis
E. Hisey, 84, retired farmer, died Wednesday at the home of his daughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Emer Detwiler, following six months' illness of complications.
Mr. Hisey came to Columbiana
10 years ago from his farm at New Waterford. The son of Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan Hisey, he was born in Unity township Sept. 13, 1853.
He was married to Susan Ferrall in 1881 at Columbiana. His wife died in February, 1929. He was a member of the Presbyterian church here.
He is survived by the one daughter, Mrs. Detwiler; one sister, Mrs.
Tryphena Christolm of Alliance; four grandchildren; and one great grandchild.
Rev. J. C. Strubel will conduct funeral service at 2:30 p. m. Friday at the Detwiler home. Burial will be in Columbiana cemetery.

MRS. MARGARET CAMP
Mrs. Margaret Camp, 81, widow of G. Casner Camp, died at the home of her daughter, Mary B.
Camp, Phoenix, Ariz., Tuesday morning.
Mrs. Camp was a lifelong resident of Hanover township, where she was born, until recently when she went to Arizona.
She is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Elmer Harris of Nez Perce, Idaho; Mrs. E. W. Van Syce of Dallas, Texas, and Miss Camp of Phoenix; two sons, Dr. George H.
Camp and John W. Camp, both of Cleveland; two sisters, Mary A. Coy of New Kensington and Mrs. William Woolf of East Rochester.

Funeral service will be conducted at 2 p. m. Sunday at the Stark Memorial. Burial will be in Woods-dale cemetery. Rev. R. D. Walter will be in charge of the service.

HARRY W. BEACH
Harry W. Beach, 63, died at the Massillon State hospital at 11:30
a. m. Wednesday of a cerebral hemorrhage following a year's illness.
Mr. Beach, who had lived in Salem nine years, was a member of the Friends church here and of the Modern Woodmen's lodge of Sebring.
He is survived by his wife, Catherine; one granddaughter, Dorothy; two brothers, Walter of Kankakee, Ill., and Henry of Bloomingdale, N. Y.

Funeral service will be held at 2:30 p. m. Sunday at the Arbaugh funeral home in charge of Rev. C.
F. Bailey. Burial will be in Grandview cemetery. Friends may call at the funeral home Saturday evening.

Dog Warden Butch Reports Increase In Year's Revenue

LISBON, Dec. 30.—The Colum-biana County Dog Warden's office showed an increase of $1,083.75 in revenue for 1937 over figures for the preceding year, a report made public today by Dan Butch, dog warden, indicates.

The office collected $10,765.50 in 1937 and $9,681.75 in 1936, the report states. A $339.38 decrease in the amounts paid for animal claims also was included. In 1937 this totalled $2,583.20 and in 1936, $2-923.08. The money was paid county residents for loss of livestock.

Sheep-killing dogs accounted for the bulk of the expenditures. A sharp drop in the number of sheep casualties from this cause was reported. This year 190 sheep were killed and last year 407 were slaughtered by the canine raiders.

Increases in killings among other livestock occurred this year, however. Seven goats, seven hogs, three calves and seven cows were slain. The latter were shot by Butch when they developed rabies.

Farmers were indemnified for 31 injured sheep and seven other varieties of livestock this year. Dogs wounded only 59 in 1936.

Matter of Figures

CHICAGO—Andrew Harke lives at 308 Oakwood avenue in suburban Highland Park. When he tried to go to bed in a home at 308 Prairie avenue in nearby Highland, police were called and Harke went to jail instead.

In justice court Harke said it had been a large evening and 308 is 308 no matter which town it's in.
Justice of the Peace C. J. Shetteley said, however, that by that sort of reasoning Harke could readily appreciate that $15 is $15—the amount of his fine.

Well Fortified
CINCINNATI, Dec. 30.—Secret service agents wondered today how much they risked their lives in arresting and charging with counterfeiting a man who gave his name as William Howard Swift, 39.
They said they found a home-made rifle, a home-made revolver, a shot-gun, a small-bore unmounted cannon, apparently home-made, and a miniature mounted cannon—all loaded—when they raided his home yesterday.
They also said they found $17,000 in counterfeit currency.

Here and There About Town

Cleans Up Office
It was clean-up day in Mayor George Harroff's office this morning.
Recalling his debut as mayor two years ago, the official bustled himself with tidying up his office in general, removing old calendars from the walls and straightening up his desk.

In order that the mayor might have a safe place to keep court funds, service department workers moved a safe from the fire department to the mayor's office upstairs. The safe had been stored in the fire department since 1919.

Stoffer High In Shoot
Police Chief Ralph Stoffer won highest score in a pistol shoot at the Alliance armory Wednesday night, marking up 95, 97 and 91 scores for a 283 total.
The chief won over a score of other marksmen, the majority of them Alliance police and railroad detectives.

Actress Wins Praise
Almira Sessions, wife of Albert Allen, formerly of Salem, is appearing in "Shadow and Substance" at the Nixon theater in Pittsburgh this week. The play has received excellent reviews and critics have praised Miss Sessions' work in the piece.

Bicycle Is Stolen
Arthur Meyers of 652 Perry st., told police yesterday that his bicycle was stolen from the garage at his home sometime Tuesday night.

Search for Bodies
Of Victims of Air
Disaster In Lake

PORT CLINTON, Dec. 30.—Search was resumed today for the bodies of Delbert Watkins, 30, of New Plymouth, and Albert Anderson, 45, of Sandusky, drowned yesterday when an airplane plunged into Lake Erie near Put-in-Bay.

The body of Mrs. Nancy Howard, 42, of Lexington, Ky., the third passenger, was recovered. William Somogy, 30, of Lorain, pilot suffering from shock and exposure, was reported as improving.
Somogy, pilot of the plane owned by the Erie Isles Airways, Inc., was exonerated by Henry Fox, justice of the peace of Put-in-Bay, after an inquest, of all blame in connection with the tragedy.
Somogy said he became lost in a dense fog that enveloped the islands as he took off. He was unable to find the airport at Put-in-Bay and circled the islands several times.

Spotting a blue path in the haze, Somogy started downward, believing it to be solid ice. Instead it was water into which the plane plunged, tossing out the passengers.
The body of Mrs. Howard was transported by plane yesterday to Port Clinton and an autopsy will be performed today by Dr. R. R. Semon, Ottawa county coroner, in the belief that she died of heart failure.

Mrs. Roosevelt Back From Western Jan.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 30.—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt, who has arrived at or departed from the Washington airport at almost every hour of the day, set an "early bird" mark today.

The first lady landed shortly after 4 a. m. on her return from the surprise Christmas visit which she made to her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. John Boettiger, in Seattle, Wash.

Bad weather in some sections made air travel dangerous and part of the way across the country Mrs. Roosevelt traveled by train.

of the attempted coup in February of 1936 when an effort was made to set up a military dictatorship. In their revolutionary plans, nevertheless, they still maintained blind allegiance to the emperor. There was no thought of challenging his supreme power. Their aim was to set up a junta which would bring him greater glory.

Opposed to them were and are the more conservative older men in military command and the financial and industrial leaders who fear the effects on Japanese commerce of any drastic military campaign. They agree with the younger radicals in the latter's imperialistic program to the extent of obtaining more room for Japan's crowded millions to expand.

Is Japan at Crossroads?
But this end was largely realized with the annexation of Manchukuo in 1931. Efforts to colonize and settle this considerable territory with Japanese have been only now well under way. The problem of how to police all China and what to do with it would be even more of a task for Japan than Italy has experienced in capitalizing on their Ethiopian campaign.

Meanwhile, Japan's warlords encourage and abet the people in their wishful regard for the emperor and capitalize thereon. By inspiring the public to fervent adoration of the emperor they benefit, since the military sets itself up as the right hand of Japan's "divine" ruler and a group to be respected and obeyed in all matters.

It may be that Japan is today at the crossroads. There is obviously a showdown imminent between the jingoistic and more conservative factions. On the outcome of that struggle will depend the future of the far east and possibly of much more.

There have even been reports that extremists might attempt to assassinate the emperor were he to oppose their imperialistic plans. This might seem doubtful in view of the regard in which he is held, but the fanatical viewpoint of some of the jingoist faction would brook most any action if it accomplished their end.

Davey To Release Bombshell Monday In House Session

COLUMBUS, Dec. 30.—An executive office statement said today that Gov. Martin L. Davey would discharge "a bombshell" in an address before a joint session of the house and senate Monday night.

The governor also disclosed that Lieut. Gov. Paul P. Yoder, presiding senate officer, had declined to call senate members to meet at 7 p. m., 15 minutes after the executive is scheduled to begin his half-hour address, which will be carried over a state-wide hookup of 14 radio stations.

Theater Attractions

Nelson Eddy and Ilona Massey in "Rosalie"

The State continues its present attraction, "Navy Blue and Gold", through tonight and Friday. James Stewart, Robert Young and Tom Brown, Lionel Barrymore and Florence Rice have the leading roles.

The story presents three midshipmen from different stations in life, who are drawn together at the Academy, on the gridiron and as classmates. Young is a cynic with no intention of remaining in the service. Stewart is up from a battleship, trying for a commission. Brown is a scion of wealth, with a pretty sister, played by Miss Rice.

Involved in Scandal
Stewart is involved in a scandal when it is learned that he enrolled under an assumed name, owing to the fact that his father, a navy officer, had been cashiered out of the service. He clears his father's name in a dramatic scene and is reinstated. Navy defeats Army as a result and the gob from the fleet wins the girl.

Others in the cast include Billie Burke as the society matron, Barnett Parker as an English butler much concerned in the intricate artistry of American football, Paul Kelly as the Navy coach and Samuel S. Hinds as the dignified father of Miss Rice.

The latest and most entertaining of the popular Gene Autry musical western films is "Boots and Saddles" which shows Friday and Saturday at the Grand.

Autry has Smiley Burnette, Ra Hould, young boy actor, and Judith Allen in the east. The story concerns young Hould, orphaned son of an English nobleman who comes to this country to settle his father's estate.

Bids For Army Contract
Autry induces the boy to bid for a government contract to raise horses for the army instead of sell-

Prominent Chinese Catholic Is Slain By Orange Peddler

SHANGHAI, Dec. 30.—J. Lo Pa-Hong, China's most prominent Catholic layman and the chairman of Shanghai's new Civic association, was killed in the French concession today by an assassin disguised as an orange peddler.

Police expressed the fear that the slaying was the start of a terrorist campaign to prevent Chinese from cooperating with Japanese establishment of a new regime. The assassin, who escaped, was believed to have been a patriot-terrorist, angered because Lo's Civic association had planned to work with Japanese in rehabilitating areas around Shanghai.

Founder of the Catholic Action society here, Lo had directed collection of large sums for Catholic charities. His work had received world-wide recognition.

Indiana's Don Lash Voted Outstanding Big Ten Athlete

OLYMPIC STARS FADE IN YEAR'S TRACK HISTORY

Cunningham top Survivor Among Pace-Setting Old-Timers

NEW YORK, Dec. 30.—New blood pumped into the veins of track and field checked the usual post-Olympic decline on the cinder track this year, and the high class performances by newcomers swept many familiar names from championship roles.

The National A. A. U. title events at Milwaukee in which only three athletes retained their crowns, furnished a yardstick as to the keen competition that prevailed all year. Four of five Olympic champions were defeated in this meet, and only seven of the 30 participating Olympians broke into the victory column.

Answer to the downfall of so many old-timers was not found in sub-par performances. Winners in 14 events turned in National championship records, three of which eclipsed existing American marks. And the fact that six junior records were shattered in the Nationals was a long way in alleviating any fears that Uncle Sam's athletes' fade from the Olympic procession in 1940. The new crop of talent will be full ripe by then.

While the A. A. U. had dozens of new records up for approval at its Boston convention in November, no feats of 1937 caught the nation's fancy such as the "stratosphere" pole vault flights of Southern California's "bamboo twins," Bill Sefton and Earl Meadows, in the Pacific coast conference championships.

This pair of aerialists slid over the bar at 14 ft. 11 in., bettering George Varoff's world record by 4 in. At the Nationals, the best either could do was 14 ft. 7 in., at which height they were matched by Varoff and a newcomer, Cornelius Warmerdam from San Francisco's Olympic club. This latter figure, however, was 1 in. higher than Varoff's recognized world mark.

Another of the year's standout performances was turned in by the Indian iron man, Donald R. Lash, at Boston last winter. He toured the boards in the fastest two miles ever run. Already holder of the world outdoor record of 8:58.3, Lash added the indoor laurels when he broke the tape in 8:58 to slip a fifth of a second from Paavo Nurmi's record.

Lash came back after a four months' rest and retained his 10-000-meter cross country championship on a treacherous, waterlogged course last fall. It was the first time in the 44 year history of the event that an athlete had won it four consecutive years.

It was Lash's brilliant two mile work that "de-mythologized" the mile and its standbys—Glenn Cunningham and Gene Venzke.

Lash, the corn-thatched Indian even tried to mop up some of the mile glamour when he ran against Cunningham and Archie San Romani at that distance in the Princeton Invitational in the spring. Although San Romani won by a hair, the timers caught the Kansan and Lash at the same time—4:37.2—a half-second slower than Cunningham's world record.

Glenn ran third. It was not Cunningham's first defeat of the year by Romani, however. He beat Glenn at Chicago.

Cunningham, however, was one of the three athletes to retain his crown at Milwaukee. Glenn ran a mile and half in the phenomenal time of 6:34 at New York in the spring that pared down Nurmi's world mark 8 1/2 seconds.

On the debit side of Cunningham's three-year-old mile record of 4:06.7 by Stanley Wooderson, spindly-legged, British bank clerk. Wooderson, paced by two club mates, was clocked in 4:06.6.

Delving into the numerous noteworthy feats of 1937, there are several more notable ones. Elroy Robinson set a world record of 146.6 for a half-mile on the day that Johnny Woodruff, Pittsburgh's great Negro runner, decided to try the mile against Cunningham and Romani. Woodruff, however, came back at the Pan meet and was clocked in the world record time of 147.8 for 100 meters, but the course was found to be 5 feet short.

Mel Walker, Ohio State's great Negro high-jumper, twice bettered the word standard with leaps of 6 ft. 10 in., and 6 ft. 10 1/2 in., while on an European junket last summer.

In team competition, San Francisco's Olympic Club squad won the national outdoor title, displacing the New York A. C. after a reign of five years, but the N. Y. A. C. retained its indoor crown. Southern California annexed the N. S. A. A. championship and Pittsburgh took the I. C. 4-A title by a half point from Columbia. New York's Millrose A. C. regained the cross country championship from Indiana, and Michigan State retained its I. C. 4-A cross-country crown for the fifth straight year.

On the executive side of the track and field, most important was the partial settlement of the wrangle for control for Olympic affairs between the A. A. U. and N. C. A. A. The A. A. U. conceded the N. C. A. A. equal membership on Olympic committees. Judge Sam E. Hoyt of New Haven, Conn., replaced Jeremiah T. Mahoney as president of the A. A. U. and the American Olympic Association retained at its head Avery Brundage.

Last Quarter Rally Wins For Coach Jim Wiand's Basketball Team

COLUMBIANA, Dec. 30.—After trailing throughout the first three periods, Columbiana High school cagers rallied in the fourth quarter to defeat the Alumni basketball team, 23 to 22, here last night.

The high school lads were on the short end of a 20 to 13 score at the close of the third quarter, but three field goals by Richard Fisher and one each by Poulton and Eckert enabled them to squeeze out the victory in the final frame.

Fisher led the scoring in the contest, hooping five field goals for 10 points.

The Columbiana reserves lost out to an Old Timers team in the preliminary game. The score was 31 to 13.

Playing with the Old Timers was C. Reinher, a member of the 1912 Columbiana High basketball team, which was the first ever sponsored by the school. Reinher scored two of the Old Timers' points.

Football tip: Four of the ten coaches who'll have teams in "Bowl" games Saturday use the old Knute Rockne system.... Now that Art Guepe has become freshman football and basketball coach at Marquette his mother has released him from such duties as baking, sewing and making the beds.... Congratulations, Butch....

Here's a little pick-me-up for the Messrs. Warner, Medwick, et al.: Dan Daniel, baseball expert of the New York World-Telegram, says factory tests have proved the so-called "deader" ball the National league will use next season is less than one per cent slower than the apple used in the American league. When Judge John Martin retires as president of the Southern association next year, Elmer Daily, Middle Atlantic president, who has been on the job 13 years will become the oldest league president in organized baseball.... we'll take West Virginia by two touchdowns over Texas Tech in the Sun Bowl game.

American League Completes Staff Of Umpires For 1938

CHICAGO, Dec. 30.—The American league's staff of umpires for 1938 was complete today with the signing of Joseph William Rue, promoted from the American association. Rue, whose addition to the staff was announced last night by President Will Harridge, started his umpiring career with the Virginia league in 1925, spent the next six years in the American association, transferred to the Pacific Coast league for a three-year stay, and returned to the association in 1934. Although only two vacancies were created by the retirement of the Veteran Bill Dinneen and the transfer of C. E. Johnston to the American association, three "freshmen" were signed. Previously, Eddie Rommel, former pitching star, who worked last year in the International league, and Charles Grieve, another American association graduate, were added.

ALABAMA STARS OF YESTERYEAR TO WATCH GAME

Crimson Tide Will Have Better Team In Stands Than On Field

BY PAUL ZIMMERMAN
PASADENA, Calif., Dec. 30.—All the worrying in Alabama's football camp would be reduced to a minimum, the Tide's coaching staff admits, if Coach Frank Thomas could call for the stands New Year's day a host of "Bama Rose Bowl" stars of other years to cope with California.

Hank Crisp, athletic director who has been with the invaders in a coaching capacity on each of the four previous trips, expressed the thought in no uncertain terms as a little young man sauntered into the hotel lobby.

He was Dixie Howell, who gave Stanford the galloping jitters with his pitches three years ago Jan. 1. "Wouldn't it be swell," said Dixie to a rugged chap named Riley Smith who did some handsome blocking for Howell that afternoon, "if we could get in there again Saturday?" "Would it!" exclaimed Crisp.

Howell and Smith, fresh from the pro wars where they performed with the Champion Washington Redskins, were engulfed in a crowd of admirers.

That set Hank to talking. "With no reflection on the team," said Crisp, "Alabama will have a better team sitting in the stands than on the sidelines."

He named nine bowl performers who will be spectators. Besides Howell and Smith there are Joe Riley, left half, 1935; John Mack Brown, halfback, 1926; Paul Bryant, end, 1935; Kay Francis, center, 1935; Babe Pearce, guard, 1926; Sonny McGehee, tackle, 1931; Billy Brown, halfback, 1931.

Meanwhile Alabama's regulars, who gained 57 yards via the airways in the regular season, planned to offset California's power with Sleepy Joe Kilgore and Herky Moseley, two gems adept at hurling the leather. The Bears, who have a neat passer in Bottari, are working on pass defense.

On other bowl fronts, Sugar Bowl—Louisiana State spent an hour and a half on overhead attack and defense. Cotton Milner, the Tigers' most adept receiver, made a brilliant showing as a receiver, and Young Bussey won praise from Coach Bernie Moore as a passer. Santa Clara ordered another secret practice today.

Cotton Bowl—Rice arrives at Dallas today for a final tapering off drill. Ernie Lain, the Owls' ace back, is the Rice pitching nominee against Colorado's Whizzer White. The Buffaloes move into Dallas Friday.

Orange Bowl—Auburn, most confident of the Bowl teams, followed Coach Jack Meagher's optimistic statements with Captain Les Antley's "we think we're in." The Plainsmen featured passing in their final home workout before leaving for Miami. Charlie Bachman, Michigan State mentor, will rest his squad today. He is worried over an ankle injury suffered by Carl Nelson, 208-pound end and crack pass receiver.

Sun Bowl—Both Texas Tech and West Virginia plan to take things easy today after three days of brisk practice sessions.

East-West—The coaches spent yesterday in trading compliments while the squads eased off.

Said Andy Kerr of the eastern staff: "If we're not on our toes they'll probably pass us right out of the stadium."

Replied Coaches Orin Hollingsbery and Bill Jones of the western side: "If they let us have the ball long enough we might be able to use all our plays."

Hunters Must Have New Licenses Jan. 1

COLUMBUS, Dec. 30.—Starting Jan. 1 Ohio hunters must have 1938 licenses and wear on their backs a numbered tag to comply with the new license law passed last summer by the legislature. Conservation Commissioner Lawrence Wooddell said the new tags must be obtained for New Year's day hunting, but he added that because some hunters would not be able to obtain them "no drastic action would be taken against those who fail to get the new licenses, if they make an attempt to do so."

More than 220,000 new licenses were being mailed today and 550,000 have been purchased for the year, Wooddell said.

Coaches Favor Use of Camera For Correcting Faults Uncovered In Team's Games

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 30.—Football coaches in convention turned today to motion pictures, which have played an increasingly important part in the gridiron sport. Use of the camera for improving a team's play was up for discussion by a half dozen top-ranking coaches, who advocate it as an essential for correcting faults of individual players.

BOWLING NEWS

The Stillicious Chocolates and Mullins Die Room continued their close race for first place in the Pastime league at the Grate Recreation alleys last night with the Chocolates taking two of three games from Loudon's V-8's and the Die Room winning three heats from the Citizens Ice & Coal.

The Ohio Edison Electric Shop won two out of three games from the Police Dept. in the other league match.

A mixed match between the Sinclairs and Abe's A. A. Ladies at the Grate alleys last night was won by the Sinclairs, 1879 to 1737. The teams each used only four bowlers.

Miss Stella Smith was high among the ladies with 518, while John Burns led the men with 530.

COACHES VOTE DISTANCE ACE NO. 1 ATHLETE

Don Lash of Indiana Finished Far Ahead In Big Ten Poll

BY WILLIAM WEEKES
CHICAGO, Dec. 30.—The Big Ten's "outstanding athlete" title for 1937 belongs to Donald R. Lash, Indiana's smasher of distance running records—by as far as some of the bigger margins he established in cinderpath triumphs.

The light footed Hoosier who ran a world record 8:58 two miles at Boston last February, dominated Big Ten mile and two mile fields outdoors for three years, along with supplying a full share of thrills for Drake and Pennsylvania relay crowds, galloped off with the sixth annual Associated Press poll of coaches and sportswriters, by a score of 67 points, to 37 for a fellow Hoosier, Fullback Corby Davis. John (Jake) Townsend, an Indianapolis boy who operates for Michigan in basketball and track, was third with 19 points.

Lash whose career on the tracks was interrupted shortly after his graduation from Indiana last June by an appendectomy, was the first choice of 17 of the 41 voters. Five picked him second and six made him third choice. Scoring was on the basis of three points for a first choice, two for a second, and one for third. Davis collected seven firsts, five seconds and six thirds, while Townsend was tops with three voters, ran second on four ballots and third on two.

The brilliant Indiana star followed Ohio State's maulerless Jesse Owens, holder of world broad jumping, sprinting and hurdling marks, last year's choice. Cecil Isbell, Purdue's football star, and Louis Boudreau, Illinois basketball and baseball star, shared fourth place at 16 points; Jewell Young, Purdue's holder of the Big Ten individual basketball scoring record, had 15 for sixth, and 13 points gave Jim McDonald, Ohio State gridiron and basketball ace, the next position.

Others receiving support included Dave Albritton, Mel Walker and Johnny Rabb, all of Ohio State.

Seabiscuit Taken Out of Handicap
LOS ANGELES, Dec. 30.—Seabiscuit's 1936 debut was put off indefinitely today as owner Charles S. Howard withdrew his champion from the New Year's handicap because of a weight assignment of 132 pounds.

Second high weight was given Horace Luro's Uruguayan horse, Amor rojo, 118. He did, winner of the Christmas stakes, was third at 117.

"GIVE HER WINGS" by MARIE BLIZARD

SYNOPSIS

Julie Allerdye, 19-year-old daughter of Professor Allerdye of the Ramsey Preparatory School for Boys, intends to get herself engaged to Dr. Richard Jessup, the most eligible bachelor in her little town of Fayette, New York. Tommy Jessup, the doctor's younger brother, adores Julie, but he is still in college and Julie scorns him as a child. Everyone in town had always thought Dick would marry Millicent Dodd, a woman nearer his own age. At a country club dance Julie meets Pete Waddell, barnstorming aviator. He tells her there is a great future in flying for a beautiful girl.

CHAPTER IV

Dr. Jessup stood in the doorway, his eye scanning the dancers.

Julie, seeing him, thought: he's older than the boys here but he's distinguished. She also thought that the shoulders of his shabby dinner jacket were too narrow, his hair astonishingly gray for a man of thirty-eight.

The instant the music stopped she left Waddell and made her way across the floor to the door. Her hand flickered on Dick's sleeve while he was still looking for her.

His eyes lighted at her touch. "I'm sorry I couldn't call for you, Julie. Having a good time?"

"I am now," she said letting her voice linger on the last word. "Let's go out on the verandah. There's an April moon, Dick, and I want you to tell me about Miss Millie."

Miss Millie was a touch. That was Priscilla's name for her, but Julie had always called her Millicent.

"She's going to be all right. That girl has too many colds and I wanted to catch this one at the start."

"Of course you did. Everyone talks about your devotion to her, Dick. One would think Millicent was eighty-four."

Julie clung to his arm and led him to a darkened corner of the verandah. It was early April and there was a chill in the air. Her hand in his felt cold.

"Julie, we can't stay here, child. You'll catch pneumonia in that thin dress."

Julie seized on the word child. "Dick," she said ever so softly, "do you always think of me as a child?"

He laughed softly. Amused. "Patently."

"Is that fair to me?" She let him see her face for a moment, then lowered it.

Her lovely head was bowed as though she didn't dare to lift it after what she had said. He raised her chin and her limpid eyes looked full into his. In that moment he did not think her—as he always had—a child. He only saw that her asking mouth was close to his. He kissed her and she trembled in his arms. He swallowed hard and patted her shoulder while the blood sang in his ears.

"Oh Dick," she murmured against the broadcloth of his coat. "Darling, I feel so bold. But it took you such a long time! I knew that you loved me. You do, don't you?"

Dick answered something. He wasn't sure afterward what it was. His hand stroked her shoulder while he tried to reassemble his scattering wits.

"Please kiss me again, darling."

If he hadn't kissed her then... But he did, and Julie, gazing sweetly into his face, said, "I'll go and get my things and we'll go straight home. I want to tell Dad tonight. Wait for me here."

She turned from him swiftly before he could say anything and made her way through the crowded groups to the stairs leading to the dressing-rooms. The stairs were crowded with couples sitting there between the dances. She picked her way carefully.

Pete Waddell rose from the top step.

"Going somewhere in a hurry or do we dance again?"

"Sorry," she said shortly, "I'm leaving."

"You're ruining my night," he answered easily and detained her with his hand on her arm. "But, look, if you ever feel a mood for flying coming on, you can reach me at the Clunesville airport. No charge for a big thrill."

"Thanks. If I should ever need a thrill, I'll find some other way of getting it. Good night." She crushed by him while she made a mental note: Waddell—Clunesville airport.

The table was arranged for ten. At each place there was a small white crepe paper basket filled with heart-shaped candies. Ten streamers of white baby ribbon ran from the baskets to the center of the table where white flowers overflowed their silver bowl hiding the cards attached at the other end.

The cards tied together bore the names of Julie Allerdye and Richard Jessup.

Millicent Dodd moved bonbon dishes to make places for her silver candlesticks as thunder rumbled distantly in the dark noon-day sky. The wind rattled the white Venetian blinds and sent a chill draft through the room. Millicent thought, I must have Peter built a fire in this hearth, it will warm the room.

Her hands fumbled in the flowers as the thought came to her that she would never feel quick and warm again.

A cheerful voice sounded at her back and she started as though she had spoken her thought aloud. "It looks beautiful, Millicent!" Harriet Amberson pronounced from the dining-room doorway. Then, "I made some brownies for your party."

"Thank you," Millicent answered in her soft voice. "The girls will love them. I'll serve them with the ice cream instead of macaroons. Perhaps I'll serve them both, youngsters love sweets."

Mrs. Amberson looked at her sharply. "Youngsters! Nonsense, Millicent. Anybody'd think to hear you talk, you were a grandmother."

"They're youngsters to me. Twenty seems young when you're thirty-four."

Mrs. Amberson opened her mouth as if to speak. Then she thought better of it. Finally:

"Julie Allerdye is a lucky girl!" "Isn't she?" Millicent said brightly.

"I wasn't thinking of her getting Dick Jessup," Harriet Amberson said more heatedly than she intended. "I mean she's lucky to have a friend like you to give her an engagement party. You're very broad-minded, Millicent, it isn't every girl would do it."

Millicent knew what her neighbor's word implied. She answered hurriedly, fearful that Harriet would say more. "I'm glad to do it. I've been giving parties for Julie ever since she was ten. Her mother was never well while she was alive and after she died..." Her voice trailed away weakly.

Mrs. Amberson picked up her umbrella. "Well, I must get along. The table looks beautiful, dear, but you've forgotten the place cards," she said as she went toward the door.

"No, I have them," Millicent said. The clock in the hall striking twelve times drowned out the rest of her reply.

WASHINGTONVILLE

The funeral of C. H. Weikart, who died at his home on Sunday, following a short illness, was held at his home on Tuesday and was largely attended.

The service was in charge of Rev. A. O. Kelley, pastor of the Methodist church. The pallbearers were Fred. William and Carl Weikart, Frank Ballantine, C. A. Stouffer and Hayes Stiller, members of the Masonic order.
